RETALIATION

We in Jacksonville and Morgan county who dwell at peace with our neighbors can hardly appreciate the feeling of enmity that now exists in Southern Illinois the City of St. Louis. Thousands of Southern Illinois business men and coal miners have nothing against individual residents of the Missouri metropolis, but they are plenty "sore" because of the passage of St. Louis' anti-smoke ordinance. The coal industry claims that its provisions work hardships upon producers of coal. Under the anti-smoke ordinance St. Louis will permit no coal to be burned that has not gone through a special washing process.

The measure was bitterly opposed by Illinois mine interests from the start. For one of the few times in history, mine owners and mine employees lined up together on a common battle front.

"If you pass this ordinance, you will be sorry," a number of Southern Illinois business and civic leaders told St. Louis officials.

But despite the warning, St. Louis went ahead and adopted the legislation.

Now the fireworks have started. The mayor of Belleville was one of the first to touch them off.

The mayor has proposed a $50 license fee on all "outside" trucks making deliveries of products of any kind in Belleville. The license would be a direct slap at St. Louis for its anti-smoke law, as St. Louis business interests truck tons and tons of merchandise into Belleville every day.

Southern Illinois, whose chief product is coal, contends that the St. Louis ordinance is unreasonable. It demands that coal be given a costly washing process, even the cheapest kind of coal. As many large St. Louis industries consume slack and other cheaper grades of fuel, the measure applies directly to these grades.

It was pointed out by leaders of the opposition to the anti-smoke ordinance that such a law would put a number of smaller mining companies "out of business." They cannot bear the expense of installing new machinery and carrying on the special washing process.

Boycotts of St. Louis goods have been threatened. Municipal legislation is considered in a dozen or more Illinois communities, discriminating against St. Louis products. It is a distressing situation.

Illinois and Missouri have been good neighbors since the beginning of their statehoods. Any differences that have developed between them always have been ironed out quickly and peaceably. This situation that has arisen in Southern Illinois also can be brought to an amicable conclusion.

Southern Illinois mining interests no doubt have a grievance. But it is doubtful if exorbitant license fees or discrimination of St. Louis products will solve the problem. These will only tend to prolong the struggle and create further hatred.

Surely there is some way that the business interests of Southern Illinois communities and St. Louis can get together, and reach an understanding.

Belleville is a good town. St. Louis is a good city. We know that a battle across the river such as is now proposed can serve no good purpose.

FIGHTING FARM FIRES

"The structure was burned to the ground," is a familiar phrase in reporting farm fires.

Too often help is not available. When a farm house or barn catches fire, it usually is doomed unless the fire is discovered within a minute or two after it starts.

In most instances, no attempt is made to battle the flames because there is no use. They have the volunteers licked. Attention is turned to saving the contents and adjoining buildings. Such instances bring to mind a picture of the utter helplessness in which the family finds itself when it wakes up in the middle of the night, or even in the daytime, and finds the house or barn on fire.

The reader often wonders if ever a plan will be devised by which a rural family might have something of the degree of protection against fire which every city dweller has. On the first alarm in the city motorized pumps and ladder trucks come thundering to the place of the fire, and in the great majority of instances are able to conquer the flames before the building is consumed or badly damaged.

When a farm house or barn gets well aflame, the chances are 100 to 1 that it will burn to the ground. Out of the central west comes word of a move to remove the defenseless position of the rural family against the perils of fire. Organized fire protection is being developed through enterprise of manufacturers and co-operation of rural communities. Good roads which now connect almost every part of Illinois permit equipment to be moved rapidly for a range of 10 or 20 miles.

Stored at a central point, this equipment could be manned and speeded to the point of danger in an unbelievably short time. Fire protection districts are organized and a volunteer force enlisted. Associations of underwriters are willing to aid in this protective program, for reduced fire losses mean more profit for the insurance companies. Telephone companies are also ready to speed the work by a system of quick alarms.

Rural fire losses if cut in half would mean the saving of millions.

A Surprise Move

Decision of the Ministerial Association yesterday to delay bringing the local option issue to a vote at the coming city election was a surprise to many persons. But surprise moves are a part of warfare, and no one denies that there is a battle between wet and dry forces. The fight that started on a huge battle front many years ago will be continued, probably locally and nationally, for another undetermined period.

Clergymen who favored submission of the question at the next election, and those who expressed preference to wait, were agreed that the action was in no way a truce. The wets and dries have signed no armistice—they are as far away from each other in principal and policy as ever.

But the consensus of the association, meeting with laymen, seemed to be that the time is not ripe for a general advance. The time is too limited, it was pointed out, to shape the lines for a major attack.

No doubt there are numerous dry leaders and followers who believe that their cause would be sustained at the polls, and that Jacksonville would again enter the dry column. No doubt there is satisfaction among the wet interests that the question has been delayed.

The decision to keep the matter off the ballot this spring prolongs a battle that many regard as inevitable. Few doubt that the time will not come when citizens of this community will go to the polls and ballot on the question.

Convincing

When Jacksonville voters a number of months ago voted overwhelmingly in favor of construction of a municipal light and power plant, it was convincing. When, this week, 27 of the 28 candidates in the February primary indicated that they are favorable to such a project, it added more conviction. In the face of this evidence, it appears that there is no doubt about what Jacksonville desires.

The Municipal Light Plant league was responsible for ascertaining the stand of the various candidates on the light plant question. Its officers mailed questionnaires to each man. Twenty-seven of them were returned, and the remaining candidate is reported to have indicated that he would make no definite answer.

A project that has support of the majority of the people, and is regarded favorably by most of the men who will occupy municipal offices, undoubtedly will have an excellent chance to materialize.

Dust Storms Again

Hardly had the Ohio and Mississippi river floods passed out of the headlines, than our eyes were attracted by accounts of another slap in the face Nature is handing us. The dust storms are again raging in Oklahoma, Texas, parts of Colorado and other western states.

Illinois has a slight idea of what these "dusters" are, from personal experience. For the last two or three years the western dust storms have run wild off the range. They have invaded the central states, bringing dense clouds of dust, constituting a haze that was easily discernible. Dusty streets and homes resulted.

Whether these storms will extend to us again this year no one knows. But floods in one section and dust storms in another show that Nature is by no means settled. She seems to be on the warpath, using one kind of weapon one place and another the next.

Nature must arrive at a balance some of these days, or she will be the motivating force of marked changes in some sections of the country. She must either settle down, science must overcome her, or a large part of the population in certain spots is going to be on the move.

Already the frequency of dust storms has caused the migration of many western farmers. They have had enough of the insidious clouds of sand and dust, and have "sold out" for other parts.

Floods are a bit easier to deal with. Man has a way of fighting floods and sometimes getting the best of them.

Persons Exposed to Scarlet Fever Should Get Antitoxin Injections

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

All the methods that have been mentioned in the previous columns relating to diphtheria are valuable in controlling the spread of scarlet fever.

If the disease is noted early and the victims promptly put to bed, if proper measures of disinfection are applied to discharges from the nose and throat, and to contaminated materials, and if we apply all we now know about specific prevention, it is quite possible that scarlet fever may some day be eliminated as a threat to human beings.

One thing is certain—every person who has scarlet fever should be isolated and remain so until a physician declares that it is safe for him to mingle with others. It is well to keep all children away from a scarlet fever victim.

The Doctors Dick found not only that the germ called streptococci is responsible for scarlet fever, but also that it produces a poison or toxin, which can be found in the material in which the germ grows.

If this toxin is injected into the skin of a person who has not previously had scarlet fever, a severe reaction occurs. In a person who is resistant to scarlet fever, either by having had a previous attack, by having obtained his resistance through his mother, or in some other way, the reaction either does not occur or is very mild.

It was found, furthermore, that the injection of small amounts of this toxin or poison into a human being, after it has been made harmless by the addition of an antitoxin, will cause the person to develop resistance against scarlet fever. Scarlet fever antitoxin of course is developed, as are most antitoxins, by injecting some of the poison into a horse, which then develops in its blood the resisting substances.

Since these great discoveries were announced, many thousands of people throughout the world have been tested as to their resistance. Because scarlet fever is not at this time an extremely widespread or especially virulent disease, it does not appear to be worth while to administer to every child preventive inoculation.

If, however, a person has been definitely exposed to the disease, or if a girl is going to work as a nurse in a hospital where there are frequent cases of scarlet fever, it is advisable to give them injections against this disease. When the material is properly used, there are few, if any, severe accidents or reactions.

The antitoxin for scarlet fever is given particularly in those cases in which the disease is very severe. There seems to be no doubt of the usefulness of this antitoxin, if given early and in sufficient amounts. The need for supplying it early cannot be too strongly emphasized, because the streptococci which produce the disease work fast when they invade the body.

Ministers Drop Plan To Seek Vote on Dry Issue at This Time

The local option issue will not be placed on the ballot at the election here April 20, according to a decision reached yesterday at a special meeting of ministers and laymen. After an extended discussion of the matter, it was decided to wait until later to put the question of prohibiting liquor sale at retail within the city before the voters.

However, the group reported more than 2,000 signatures to petitions to put the question on the ballot. It was believed 300 additional signatures could be secured before the final hour of filing last night. About 2,000 petitioners would have been necessary to have the matter up for a vote.

The campaign to secure signatures took on new life during the past week, and nearly a thousand were added through personal canvass of the city. But discussion at the meeting today revealed that those steering the local option movement had become convinced that, were the question to be placed on the ballot, there would not be sufficient time for campaign organization and education of voters to the importance of placing the city in the dry column.

The ministers argued the matter pro and con for an hour and a half. The vote on the proposal stood six to four in favor of postponing the dry attempt until later, probably until the city election two years hence. Those who secured signatures to the petitions gathered the idea from the voters approached that there would not be sufficient time to organize the dry forces so as to insure victory in the April election.

The ministers were enthusiastic for the campaign, but considered the postponement the better part of strategy. They discussed plans to start at once the temperance education and organization needed to make the local option movement successful in the future.

A motion was passed by the committee that "We instruct the Ministerial Association of Jacksonville to appoint a committee including ministers and laymen to plan a program of education and to set up a permanent organization to abolish the alcoholic liquor traffic in Jacksonville."

NRS Seeks to Aid People Who Desire Private Employment

Articles Describe Purpose and Set-up of Service Operating in City

Editor's Note—Due to a popular demand for information as to the fundamental principles and activities of the National Re-employment Service, several descriptive articles have been prepared, of which this is the first. Confusion of the service with other federal agencies dealing with the employment problem may be cleared up by the setting forth of details of just what the service does.

For the past three and one-half years there has been located in Jacksonville a free employment office, supported by government funds and titled the National Reemployment Service. This office is one of thousands whose establishment was authorized by an act of congress, June 1933. Here it has been and is now possible for anyone to register as desiring work of any type, and here in turn employers have the privilege of calling for workers of every kind.

During the first three years that this office was in existence the staff found their efforts were taken up almost wholly with the selection and referral to government relief work, CWA, WPA, PWA, etc. Little attempt was made, in fact, to investigate private employment possibilities.

Gradually, however, private employers themselves discovered that a considerable and varied group of people were available through the records kept by the NRS office. And many decided the most convenient method they could possibly use for securing a salesclerk, carpenter, bookkeeper, housekeeper, or whatever help they needed, was to call that office.

During the past year the opportunities for employment on government projects have dropped to a minimum. On the other hand, private employment possibilities have increased with considerable strength.

Now, the local NRS office along with many associate offices over the country seems to be really coming into the perspective for which it was originally planned. In other words, by acting as a clearing house for workers of every category, laboring to professional, and placing them according to their abilities on private jobs where they are needed, it is performing a very definite and wholesome community service.

DEAN WILLIAMS GOES TO YOUTH CONFERENCE

Dean Clara B. Williams of Illinois College is spending the week in New Orleans where she is attending the annual meeting of the National Association of Deans of Women.

The chief topic of discussion at the conference is the establishing of a permanent youth program. The sessions are being divided into forums and round table discussions on problems of integration of guidance and personality development. A banquet was held Thursday evening at which

Dr. Ada Comstock, president of Radcliffe College, was the principal speaker.

The association is composed of deans and superintendents from universities, colleges, junior colleges, and high schools. During the course of the meeting, several trips to neighboring schools are being included on the program.

Miss Williams is staying for the full term of the conference and there is some possibility that she will remain for the convention of the National Educational Association next week.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHE
This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or staid passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, lumbago, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

NOBODY ENJOYS TAKING MEDICINE!

Yet most people at some time suffer from common constipation. Why not correct this condition the natural way—by including a ready-to-eat cereal with your daily meals instead of taking weakening pills and drugs? Kellogg's ALL-BRAN adds the "bulk" the average system needs. In the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forming a soft, spongelike mass—which gently cleanses the intestines. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN also furnishes vitamin B to tone up the intestines and iron for the blood. Just eat two tablespoonfuls a day, as a cereal with milk or cream, or cooked into appetizing muffins, breads, etc. Three times daily in severe cases. ALL-BRAN is sold at all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Chandlerville. — The Chandlerville Woman's club met Monday evening in the Congregational church rooms at 7:15 o'clock for the Lincoln program. The usual assembly room was rearranged as a pioneer home with candle light, rag carpets and braided rugs upon the floor, two large chairs each wearing a seventy year old "tidy" and tables covered with red and white cloths centered with a silver candel and glass covered butter dish. Miss Clyde Carr, Miss Mae Ainsworth and Miss Ivan Baxter received in Civil war period dresses of blue flowered print, quaint brown and white muslin, and yellow and white nipped mull.

Mrs. Jephtha Armstrong presided at the meeting opened with roll call quotations from Abraham Lincoln.

Miss Lela Dyson gave the Life of Lincoln in New Salem. Mrs. W. A. McNeill followed with Lincoln and Mary Todd Lincoln in Springfield and Miss Lucy Giger gave a review of Lincoln's years in Washington, closing with a description of the farm land in Iowa granted to Lincoln at the close of the Black Hawk war when he, and other veterans were given land grants as pay for their services. This property lies near Miss Giger's home in Toledo, Iowa, and continues in the Lincoln family descendants' possession under the name of Berry.

Assembly singing of America closed the study hour which was followed by a musical contest won by Miss Dorothy Finch and an historical questionnaire of Lincoln dates won by Miss Lucy Giger.

Red, white and blue candles were then lighted with smaller individual place candles at the tables where ginger bread with coffee and stick candy were served by the committee in costume. A small log cabin served as the decorative motif for the buffet table. Members of the serving committee were Miss Clyde Carr, Miss Mae Ainsworth, Mrs. Ivan Baxter, Mrs. Ora Shankland, Mrs. O. Taylor, Mrs. Charles Cherry and Mrs. M. C. Brooks.

Miss Althea Gebhard was a Sunday caller in Springfield.

Word from Mrs. Ora Shankland, now a surgical patient at Springfield in Springfield hospital, tells of her regained comfort and returning strength.

Routt at Quincy (2 games).

Two games are all that are left on the basketball schedules for both Jacksonville and Routt high schools as a result of a rapidly moving series of events yesterday. Illinois School for the Deaf called off their game with Jacksonville high Saturday night and Waverly cancelled its game with Routt slated for next Tuesday night.

Jacksonville high tonight will tangle with the Murrayville Shadows, and next Tuesday night will play Carlinville on the local boards, while Routt tonight goes to Quincy Academy and on Saturday night plays White Hall on the Liberty Hall court. The rockets will enter the state Catholic school tournament at Peoria next Friday while J. H. S. will sit by and wait its turn for the regional tournament to begin about a week after their final game with Carlinville.

District Tournaments to Get Underway Next Week in Three Centers

Illinois Valley conference teams will virtually wind up their seasons this week-end and only desultory firing will follow next week as district tournaments take over the sports headlines. Other conferences as well as winding up their seasons this week, with only a few games scheduled for the following week-end.

Possibility of a play-off between Pittsfield and White Hall, Illinois Valley champs in their respective divisions, has been brought up and White Hall has offered to go to Pittsfield for a combat, depending upon whether either of the two teams make the grade for the state finals at Champaign. Pittsfield is anticipating a victory in its regional tournament, and White Hall expects to pull through its own regional, qualifying both teams for sectional tournaments, and there- by removing the prospect of a game between the two title holders for at least three weeks.

Pittsfield has the problem of sewing up the Pike county and Northern Illinois Valley titles tonight in its game with Griggsville, while White Hall plays at Greenfield. Pleasant Hill will come to Winchester, and Carrollton is slated for a game at Jerseyville.

The schedule for this week-end is as follows:
Tonight
White Hall at Greenfield.
Pleasant Hill at Winchester.
Carrollton at Jerseyville.
Griggsville at Pittsfield.
Tallula at Franklin.
Virginia at Pleasant Plains.
Bath at Mt. Sterling.
Rushville at Ashland.
Nebo at Milton.
Waverly at Virden.
Modesto at Chapin.
Chandlerville at Petersburg.

Saturday Night
Roodhouse at Winchester.
Murrayville at Jerseyville.
Forest City at Chandlerville.
Griggsville at Perry.
White Hall at Routt.

Coach Wallace Baptist said yesterday he probably would start the same team that has been winning games since that time have hit a winning stride. They thumped McCooey, a team which has lost only to Quincy Academy, and have won all of their games in the last two weeks.

FAN BREEZES

By Ernest Savage

SPINACH has gained a new stronghold on the youngsters. . . . Jane Wright has been ordering her South Jacksonville grade school cagers to consume quantities of it so that they will grow big and make good basketball players. . . . She hasn't had much difficulty in selling the idea to these hustlers either. . . .

GRAPEFRUIT and eggs likewise helped the South Jacksonville Waverly hurdle. . . . The coach explained that she asked all of her boys to eat grapefruit, eggs and toast before playing Waverly. . . . "Well, I thought my boys would like them a good game," was Miss Wright's only comment after they knocked off the team that was doped to win the title. . . . Said Coach Wilton of the Waverly team: "There'll be days like that. The ball wouldn't go down deep enough in the basket."

NEXT YEAR'S tournament probably will be limited to boys who have not yet reached their 15th birthday by the time the tournament starts. . . . There was no kicking about the fact that a couple of the Waverly boys were over that age. . . . However, it was found that the average age of the players is something under 14 and most of the coaches of the teams felt that an age limit of 15 years would be about right.

SPORTSMANSHIP has been unusually high during the tournament. . . . The boys have taken the decisions of the officials as they should, and the spectators have had no cause to do any booing. Officiating grade school games is no easy task, but Officials Eddie Brennan and Bob Albrecht did a remarkably efficient job.

THIS COLUMN and the sports department of the Journal and Courier wishes to thank everyone who had a part in making the tournament a success, the players, the coaches, the officials, and other workers, for their untiring efforts. . . . There were some unavoidable features, such as the broken championship trophy which wasn't what was ordered, wasn't complete when it was sent, and was broken on its arrival, but everything went along smoothly with little prodding on anybody's part.

MARTY PETERS, who has been coaching at St. Teresa, Decatur, has been selected as the athletic director at St. Benedict's college at Atchison, Kansas, for next year. . . . Don Elser, Marty's running mate at Notre Dame, has been selected as his assistant. . . . The new regime will succeed one headed by Larry Mullins who will go to Loyola, New Orleans, as coach.

A LITTLE 19 tournament is being talked for next winter. . . . Brick Young suggests that the Illinois collegians follow the same plan used in the Southeastern league. . . . There the college heads get together and pick out eight teams, usually the high ranking teams on a percentage basis, for the tournament. . . . Imagine getting the Illinois conference together on the eight best teams in the state.

WHITE HALL has issued a challenge to play Pittsfield, in a post season basketball game. . . . White Hall has clinched the Southern division Illinois Valley title and is the Greene county champion, and Pittsfield has its tomahawk deep in the Northern division crown and also needs only a win tonight against Griggsville to capture the Pike county championship. . . . The game is proposed for Pittsfield, where there is a larger playing floor and more seating capacity.

MILTON turned down the Pike county district basketball tournament and M. G. Moore, the boss there, recommended that it be sent to Barry. . . . Barry is holding the tournament. . . . Milton turned it down because its team was seeded out of the district and into the regional. . . . Pittsfield already had the regional tournament.

MURRAYVILLE probably won't get a chance at White Hall on the White Hall court this year. . . . The Shadows went down there the night White Hall played at Routt. . . . Different dates appeared on contracts. . . .

Freddie Steele to Go Against Risko

Middleweights Will Clash in Garden Tonight

New York, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Freddie Steele of Tacoma, champion of the rapidly-reviving middleweight pugilistic class, will defend his crown in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night against Eddie (Babe) Risko, former titleholder.

Steele, hailed as one of the best 160-pounders the far west has produced since the palmy days of the great Stanley Ketchel, will make his debut in a 15-round match before a critical gathering of metropolitan ringsters. The Garden expects a turnout of 16,000 and "gate" of $45,000.

Broadway wagered 2 to 1 tonight that Steele will whip Risko for the third time in less than a year. The Tacoma sharpshooter beat his rival in ten rounds at Seattle, last March 24, in an over-the-weight engagement. He paid $25,000 for a shot at Babe's title four months later and won it with another ten-round verdict.

After winning the title, Steele engaged in six over-the-weight bouts before the end of the year, winning three by knockouts including a two-round kayo of Gus Lesnevich. On Jan. 1 he successfully defended the title against Gorilla Jones in Milwaukee in a ten-rounder.

Rushville Humbles Ashland Panthers

Ashland, Feb. 18.—Rushville's powerful basketball juggernaut struck Ashland with full force tonight, the visitors twisting the Panthers' tail 50 to 32.

Ashland made a scrap out of it in the first half, but in the following two periods fell by the wayside. Rushville breezed to a 15-7 advantage in the first period, and was leading the profession 24 to 17 at the half. The visitors whipped up in the next round to run the score to 41-21.

Grocers, Camp Boys And J.H.S. Crimson Lineups Win Games

Three Interesting Contests Staged Last Night in Y.M.C.A. League

Swamping the Klump Oilers, the Sturdy Grocers captured the first game in the Y. M. C. A. League last night, 22 to 9. Maddox, flashy forward for the Grocers, was high scorer, sinking four field goals and one foul shot for a total of nine points. Heaton was right on Maddox's heels with eight points.

Sammy Mangieri's C.C.C. boys had things pretty much their own way, winning easily from Larson's Cleaners 23 to 13. With only a four point lead at the half, the C.C.C. bunch found their stride in the third quarter by hitting the hoop for 12 counters. Turner and Mitchell were the big guns for the victors, counting ten and eight points respectively.

The last game of the evening proved to be a thriller, with the High School Crimson putting on a last half rally to nose out the Weyand Shoe Company 18 to 17. Trailing 13 to 6 at half time the Crimson turned on the heat, scoring nine points in the third quarter while holding the Shoe Company scoreless. Killam was high scorer for the victors with two field goals and three foul shots for seven points.

Hot Scrap on For Lead in Big Ten

Discuss Past Performances, Individual Players

Chicago.—(AP)—Picking 'em off the backboards around the Big Ten: There's certain to be quite a celebration in Minneapolis or Champaign if Minnesota or Illinois wins the Big Ten basketball championship—or a share of the title—Minnesota won the title in 1906, tied with Purdue for the top spot in 1911, tied for the title with Illinois in 1917 and then won the championship outright in 1919. . . . That was the last year the Gophers have had a look-in. . . .

Illinois hasn't won an undisputed cage title since 1915. . . . The Illini shared honors with Minnesota in 1917, with Wisconsin and Chicago in 1924 and with Purdue and Wisconsin in 1935. . . .

Jewell Young, Purdue's southpaw flipshot artist, twice this season has contributed remarkable offensive performances. . . . Against Wisconsin in the opener he made 27 points. . . . Against Illinois he scored 29. . . . In 1929 "Stretch" Murphy of Purdue scored eight field goals and 10 free throws against Chicago and in 1930 he scored 13 field goals and two free throws. . . . In 1933 Joe Reiff of Northwestern, who holds the season scoring mark of 167 points, scored 29 points against Chicago. . . . If it were hockey, Kendall Peterson, Chicago guard, would be dubbed the Big Ten's "bad boy." . . . He has drawn 28 personal fouls in nine games. . . . Radabaugh of Ohio State has had 23 in eight, Stephens of Iowa 23 in nine and Anderson of Purdue 21 in eight tilts.

Spill South Jacksonville In Titular Game 8-6; Defense Stops Scoring For Both Teams

Five youngsters who sprang to the attack and whose defense was just as determined as that of South Jacksonville, brought David Prince the first Morgan County Grade school basketball championship ever determined in a tournament last night on the David Prince boards before a large crowd. The score, 8 to 6, does not indicate in any respect the ferocity of the battle, one in which the defenses stood out as superior to the offenses.

Waverly grade school cagers won third place easily, outdistancing Woodson 30 to 10 in the game for the tournament basketball.

Successful from every standpoint, tentative arrangements were made last night to hold the second annual tournament next year. The Journal and Courier, sponsors of the first tournament, were urged by coaches and principals of the grade schools to conduct another tournament next year and the date, the third week-end in February, has been reserved.

Make Final Supreme Effort
The championship game was the final supreme effort for both South Jacksonville and David Prince. The D. P. cagers matched South Jacksonville's efforts from the field, each team scoring twice, and went to the free throw line for their victory. The D. P. lads missed five out of nine chances, and South Jacksonville missed five out of seven chances.

There were only a few moments of the game during which the ball was withheld from play. Both teams set up zone defenses immediately after they lost possession of the ball, and each team passed, dribbled and pivoted in attempts to get the ball through for a short shot.

That was where the zone defenses made such a startling impression. South Jacksonville's lads cut off tosses David Prince attempted to shoot in to players inside the front line of the defense, and the D. P. Cagers were equally quick to cut off South Jacksonville passes.

With the ball changing hands often and rapidly, the result was fast dancing on the part of players of both teams to get into position for the attack. D. P. took the edge in this department, with three players surging into the scoring territory more rapidly than the South Jacksonville defense formed, but their South Jacksonville opponents were too smart to be caught napping even then. Several times one or two of the South Jacksonville guards stopped the rush by intercepting a pass.

South Jacks Take Lead
The South Jacksonville lads got away in front when Maynard Johnson banged in a long shot shortly after the game opened. Stringham tossed in a free throw for David Prince, and then Richard Fry ripped the nets with a shot from the left side of the court. Those were all the field goals South Jacksonville was able to score during the game, despite a last minute flurry of shots, most of which fell short. Byron Doyle, who has led the D. P. team in scoring, got his only point, a free throw, just before the first quarter ended, 4-2.

Johnson's free throw to open the second period scoring gave South Jacksonville a 5-2 lead, but Capt. George Ingold of the D. P. team sank a circus shot, an overhead two armed poke that brought D. P. up to within a point of the South Jacksonville score at the end of the half.

South Jacksonville's toughest break came in the third period when Richard Fry committed his fourth personal foul. Enrico Cincis tossed in the free throw awarded for the foul, tying the score and opening the battle anew. Harold Allen, who took Fry's place, was one of the big reasons why D. P. didn't score many times from the field, for he played like a demon to get any ball that came into the offensive territory.

Break Tie In Fourth Quarter.
Horace Stringham gave the D. P. lads the lead after about a minute of play in the final period when he dropped in a free throw, and Ingold clinched the issue with about three minutes to play when he got loose near the hoop, took a pass following a tip-off in the free throw circle, and pitched in the winning bucket. Johnson got one free throw down for South Jacksonville in the last three minutes, but aside from one of his long shots which hit the front edge of the rim and bounded out of bounds, South Jacksonville was unable to get close to the basket.

The gymnasium was a bedlam all during the championship game, with students from South Jacksonville and David Prince literally raising the roof with their cheers. Both schools presented organized cheering sections that didn't let up from the time the game began until it was over.

The large crowd remained seated while the trophies were presented to the captains of the three winning teams.

Jerseyville Couple Married 56 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. D. Landon Observe Anniversary in Quiet Manner

Jerseyville—Mr. and Mrs. William D. Landon, prominent residents of Jerseyville celebrated the fifty-sixth anniversary of their wedding in a quiet manner at their home on South State street, Wednesday, February 17. Before her marriage, Mrs. Landon was Miss Etta B. Updike, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Updike, pioneer residents of the Jersey county locality. Mr. Landon's parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. William D. Landon, Sr., who came to this county in 1838.

The wedding of Miss Updike and Mr. Landon occurred Feb. 17th, 1881, at the home of the bride's parents five miles south of Jerseyville. The Rev. Thomas Potter of Loomis, a brother-in-law of the bride performed the ceremony and of the guests who assembled at the Updike home fifty-six years ago to witness the ceremony five are living. They are Miss Laura Lamb, Albert Lamb and Mrs. Nola Darlington of Jerseyville and Mrs. Lyman Beecher and Mrs. William Clarke of St. Louis, Mo.

Recalling the day of the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Landon related that a severe blizzard swept over this section of Illinois on that date. Ice and snow broke trees and blocked highways with impenetrable drifts.

Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Landon began housekeeping on the Landon farm one mile south of Jerseyville, where they lived until twenty years ago when they retired from farming and moved to their present home in Jerseyville.

Three children of Mr. and Mrs. Landon are living. They are Mrs. Leola Henry of Jerseyville and Leslie Landon, who resides on the home place south of this city, and Herbert Landon of Edwardsville.

Schaaf

Mrs. Sarah Schaaf, widow of Louis Schaaf, died at her home in Jerseyville Tuesday, February 16th, at 6:30 o'clock in the evening, following a few days illness.

Mrs. Schaaf was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Simpson, and was born in Effingham, April 2, 1869. At the time of her death she was sixty-seven years, ten months and fourteen days of age. She is survived by two sons, Lee Schaaf of Shipman and Leonard Schaaf of Jerseyville; four daughters, Mrs. Rachael Varney of Otterville, Mrs. Rosa Woods, Brighton, Mrs. Sarah Burroughs, Jerseyville and Mrs. Pearl Kulp of Alton; and two sisters, Mrs. Olive Martin of Jerseyville and Mrs. Amanda Smith of Fieldon.

Funeral services were held at the Evangelical church in Fieldon Thursday afternoon, February 18th, at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Leonard Todd officiated and interment was in the Fieldon cemetery.

Normal Traffic in Flooded Districts

Cities in Effort to Clear Roads Rapidly, Says AAA Bulletin

The Jacksonville Auto club reports that the highways in central Illinois are practically all clear.

Cities in the flooded area are making every effort to bring about normal driving conditions but unnecessary traffic into this territory should be avoided for a while yet.

The following telegram was received from the Evansville Automobile club, Evansville, Indiana:

"Highway Forty-one and bridge to the south opened."

This is welcome news as it is the shortest route to the southeast and quite heavily traveled at the present time between Jacksonville and Nashville, Tenn.

The only serious handicap at the present on routes to the west coast are the dust storms in Oklahoma and Texas which have occurred frequently during the past week. This does not affect road conditions to any great extent but visibility is very poor and it is very unpleasant driving through them.

Roads to the east and northeast are for the most part in good condition but due to rapid changes in weather conditions frequent inquiry should be made on all extended trips.

Heavy snows throughout the northwestern states during the past week have caused drifts several feet high in many places, but many have been cleared for traffic.

AD BRINGS REUNION OF MOTHER, DAUGHTER

Separated in Infancy, Girl Finds Mother After 28 Years of Wandering

Jerseyville—For the first time in twenty-seven years, a mother and her daughter who was separated from the former in infancy have been able to resume their relationship through the medium of the United States mails, and both are looking forward to an immediate reunion at the mother's home in Alton.

A classified advertisement was recently inserted in the Jersey County Democrat at Jerseyville by Cora Edick Davey of Brooklyn requesting parties who might know something of the whereabouts of Flora Green to furnish such information to the former.

Ernest Pruitt of Jerseyville read the advertisement and decided that the party making the request must be a niece of his wife for whom they had cared in infancy. Mr. and Mrs. Pruitt had cared for an infant by that name until the child was fourteen months of age, when circumstances scattered the family. When fourteen months of age, the child had been taken east by her father to live.

Information regarding the other members of her family was meagre. She knew that she was born in Jerseyville, Ill., and had an Aunt Mabel living here. Mrs. Pruitt is the aunt Mabel referred to.

Pruitt got in touch with the former Mrs. Green, who is now Mrs. Flora Watts, and resides in Alton. She immediately wrote to her daughter and the latter part of the past week received the first word from her child in twenty-seven years.

Cora enclosed photographs of herself with the letter. The pictures reveal striking resemblances to the other members of her family. In addition to her mother, Miss Davey has twin sisters living in Alton and one brother, Adrian residing in Jerseyville. Miss Davey is a graduate nurse and has been following that profession for several years.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Bettie L. Patterson, for many years a resident of this city, but now of Bath, Ill., passed away on Tuesday morning, Feb. 9.

Mrs. Patterson was the daughter of Henry and Diana Beadle, and was born at Binghamton, New York, Nov. 4, 1846. When only seven years of age, she and her parents left the Empire State, and travelled across the country in a prairie schooner drawn by oxen in true pioneer style. To Janesville, Wisconsin, where the family resided for several years. From here they migrated still farther west as was the custom in those days, and found a new home at Auburn, Iowa. Shortly after this the Civil War broke out, in which her father, Henry Beadle, took a prominent part.

At the age of fourteen years, Bettie Beadle came to Illinois, to make her home with her uncles, Isaac and Stephen Brown, at Bath, and since that time has spent the rest of her life in this state. She entered the Bath schools and completed her education there, and became identified with the early life and activities of this historic town.

In 1867 she married Captain Thomas F. Patterson, a young man of the village who had seen distinguished service in the Civil War. After living at Bath for a short while, the young couple moved to Jacksonville, Ill. Here they lived many years, as their five children were born, reared and educated in this community. Later in life they again returned to the town of Bath.

Mrs. Patterson's husband died at Bath, over twenty years ago. Mrs. Patterson was a descendant of General Putnam of Revolutionary fame. Both her father and husband fought in the Civil War; her son, J. Clifton Patterson, was connected with the Spanish-American war, while another son, Frank Patterson, served in the late World War.

She was an interested member of the Bath Old School Mates Association, and still attended the last meeting held October 2, 1936. She united with the Methodist church at an early age, and was a faithful member until death. Funeral services were held from Bath Methodist church, Feb. 11, 1937, with the pastor, Rev. Albert Jern, in charge.

Surviving are three sons, E. Frank Patterson of Jacksonville, Ill., J. Clifton Patterson and George Rice Patterson, both of Los Angeles, California. Two daughters, Mrs. Kitty Matthews of San Francisco, California, and Mrs. Laura Jones of Chicago, Ill. Also the following grandchildren: Lawrence H. Jones and Thomas E. Jones of Peoria, Ill.; Dorothy Nichols of Chicago and Ruby Hatch of San Francisco, Cal. The great-grandchildren are Laurel M. and Linda LaVerne Jones of Peoria, Ill.

Hog Values Down in Slow Retail Demand

Chicago, Feb. 18.—(P)—Increased receipts and sluggish retail demand caused hog values to tumble today. Opening 10 to 15 cents lower, the market sagged further as the run was absorbed, closing 15 to 25 cents off for the day. The early top was down a dime to $18.30.

With pork supplies in storage already heavy, packing interests apparently were not willing to accumulate more hogs without some price concession. This, coupled with the fact that the hog run here today was 4,000 above advance estimates, made the markdown inevitable. There was no change in the range of wholesale prices for fresh pork loins, but some intermediate grade cuts lost 1 cent a pound.

Plain killing quality, narrow shipping demand and the sluggish beef trade slowed the cattle trade. The market was cleared at around steady prices, however, with the bulk of steers selling for $7.75 to $11.50. Best heifers were quoted at $12.50 up to the $14.40 top.

Fat lambs were unchanged to 10 cents higher. The bulk of good and choice lambs sold at $10.50 to $10.60, with the top reaching $10.75.

Farm and Rural Interest

Pike, Jersey, Greene, Calhoun and Adams Included in Offer of Free Removal of Diseased Fruit Trees as U. S. Project—Livestock in State Has Decreased.

A project to remove abandoned, diseased and insect-infested orchards capable of spreading said pests and diseases to well-cared for orchards has been approved, and will shortly be started in Pike, Adams, Calhoun, Jersey and Greene counties. This is sponsored by WPA under direction of the state department of agriculture, division of plant industry.

Anyone in these counties wishing to take advantage of this free service may do so by mail or by taking a list of trees for removal to their Farm Bureau office, taking care that name, post office and legal description of the land on which trees are located, are stated.

The service includes the removal of any solid block of fruit trees where the species is to be removed, but no specific variety of trees may be removed from an interplanted or mixed planting of any one species.

Finds That Oat Flour Prevents Meat Mould

Reading in one of the magazines of experiments being made with oat flour as a preventive of moulds, I decided to try an experiment.

I bought a package of rolled oats, put the oats through a small feed grinder and made it into flour. The moldy meat cleared at around steady prices, however, with the bulk of steers selling for $7.75 to $11.50. Best heifers were quoted at $12.50 up to the $14.40 top.

Fat lambs were unchanged to 10 cents higher. The bulk of good and choice lambs sold at $10.50 to $10.60, with the top reaching $10.75.

Pike Feeders on The Market at National

A shipment of plain red and roan steers, which averaged 771 pounds, were marketed Feb. 8, by Tomlin & Butler of Griggsville, at National Stock Yards. They sold through Producers at $7.85.

R. E. and Clay Rush, prominent hog raisers of Pittsfield, marketed a shipment of 30 hogs on February 8, that averaged 244 pounds and sold at $10.35.

John G. Sowers of Pearl was on the market during the week with a shipment of hogs that averaged 235 pounds and sold at $10.15.

Earl Stiekman of Pittsfield was represented in the trade on February 8, with a shipment of 11 hogs that averaged 211 pounds and sold through Producers at $10.40.

Pintail Banded in U. S.

Killed in Eastern Asia

Recovery of a United States Biological Survey bird band in Asia has been reported to the Bureau for the first time.

A pintail duck killed last spring by an Eskimo near Indian Point, Siberia, about 100 miles west of St. Lawrence Island of the Territory of Alaska, carried the band, according to a report from a school teacher on the island.

The bird was banded January 3, 1936, at Los Banos, Calif., by Dwight G. Vedder, a cooperator of the Survey.

"Finding in Eastern Asia a pintail that had been banded in this country was not unexpected, although most of the American sub-species of this bird breed and nest in the northern regions of North America," says F. C. Lincoln, in charge of the Survey's bird-banding activities. "There are other records."

Explains Mr. Lincoln, "of the American sub-species that had appeared along the eastern coast of Asia, but such occurrences are rare. The European sub-species breeds and nests in the northern regions of Asia and Europe."

Banding thousands of birds annually in this country enables the Survey to accumulate valuable information on their habits, length of life, migrations, and abundance. Under the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, bird banders are required to have a federal permit.

All Livestock But Hogs Show Decline in Illinois

The numbers of all types of livestock on Illinois farms except hogs decreased during 1936, A. J. Surratt, statistician for the Illinois and federal departments of agriculture, said Thursday.

In his annual inventory estimate report, the statistician said that the Illinois hog population January 1 of this year was 4,059,000, an increase of 5 per cent over the same date a year ago.

The unusually large 1936 fall pig crop was partially responsible for the increase, Surratt indicated, pigs under six months old showing a 7 per cent gain. The value per head decreased 1 per cent under a year ago.

Horses declined 1 per cent, the 1936 figure being 732,000. The 106,000 mules represented a decrease of 2 per cent during the year.

Cattle at the end of last year totaled 2,732,000, a decrease of 2 per cent. While other types of cattle showed varying decreases, the number of milk heifers one to two years old increased 13 per cent. The value per head of all Illinois cattle decreased 2 per cent.

The estimate placed the number of sheep and lambs at the end of the year at 887,000, a 2 per cent decrease, however, the value per head of the species was 6 per cent greater.

Night Life for Poultry Boosts Egg Production

More night life for pullets and hens next winter and a subsequent increase in egg production are among the advantages to be derived from the extension of electric lines to more Illinois poultry farms, according to H. H. Alp, extension poultryman, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois.

This past winter many flock owners of the state were more than satisfied with the results they obtained from the use of artificial light to lengthen the laying flock's day. One poultryman had 800 pullets laying 55 per cent with morning lights turned on at 4:30 each morning.

Lights help to develop the immature bird and permit timely feeding during extremely cold weather, he said.

With electricity available, the all-night light, a 10-watt bulb left burning all night near the feed and water in a 20 by 20 pen, will often give the most satisfactory results with farm flocks.

Use of morning lights is also a common practice. On some farms a lantern hung in the pen at 6 a.m., until daylight has been found to help production. With electricity the lights are usually turned on at about 4:30 to 5 a.m. It is best to make the practice a regular one.

Evening lights may also be used, but the problem of dimming or gradually darkening the house may be too troublesome. Either morning or evening lights probably are best if used to provide not more than 12-to-14-hour day.

Report of Storms Lifts Wheat Prices

Chicago, Feb. 18.—(P)—Increasing complaints of domestic crop impairment by dust, high winds and drought southwest and west did much to lift wheat prices in late dealings today.

There were also advices that one half to two thirds of Argentina's wheat surplus has been sold. Preceding the late upturn of wheat values, however, lower quotations formed the rule here most of the day, with Liverpool prices declining, serving as a weight on the market.

Cables from Liverpool said substantial shipments of wheat from Argentina are expected for some weeks yet. May wheat, an old crop delivery, led the transient downturns here, and in some cases showed about a cent a bushel overnight fall, but later rallied with the new crop months, July and September.

At the close, wheat in Chicago hovered around the day's top point for all futures, 1-11 above yesterday's finish, May $1.354-1, July $1.191-1. Sept. $1.151-1, corn 1 lower to 1 higher, May $1.071-1, July $1.041-1. Sept. 971-1, oats 1-1 off, May 491-50, and rye varying from one cent decline to 1 gain, May $1.111-1. Provisions closed unchanged to ten cents down.

Can't Change Party Primary Vote Under Two Years: Zachary

State's Attorney Quotes Statute That Applies Here Next Tuesday

The question of whether a voter can change his politics in the city primary to be held Tuesday, Feb. 23, is being discussed and has brought conflicting opinions from citizens. To clarify the question, State's Attorney Oscar Zachary was consulted, and yesterday made the statement that the two-year rule, under which party affiliation in a primary cannot be changed within two years, holds good in the coming primary.

The only exceptions made by the statute are the local parties which may appear on ballots on minor elections. Major party affiliations must be maintained, and the rule holds good for all types of primary elections.

The state's attorney quoted the statute and has submitted for publication that portion which defines the law on the situation in point. Paragraph 407 of the Primary Act provides among other things the following regulation as applicable to primaries: "No person shall be entitled to vote at a primary: (d) If he shall have voted at a primary held under this Act of another political party within a period of two years next preceding such primary: Provided, participation by a primary elector in a primary of a political party which, under the provisions of section 2 of this Act, is a political party within a city only and entitled hereunder to make nominations of candidates for city offices only, and for no other office or offices, shall not disqualify such primary elector from participating in other primaries of his party: And, provided, that no qualified voter shall be precluded from participating in the primary of any purely city, village or town political party under the provisions of section 2 of this Act, by reason of such voter having voted within two years at the primary of another political party."

CONFIDENTIAL REPORT CRIME FILE ON BOLITHO BLANE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Investigation of the case of BOLITHO BLANE, British banker, aboard CARLTON ROCK-SAY, yacht, Detective Officer KETTERING runs into a maze of conflicting clues.

Each of the ship's passengers appear involved in some manner. These include LADY WELTER; her daughter, and son-in-law, REGINALD and MRS. JOCELYN; BOB FORDINI; the BISHOP of BUDE; and JONASKE HAYASHI. Only NICHOLAS STODART, Blane's secretary, appears above suspicion since he was in the yacht's lounge all during the period in which the crime was obviously committed.

As the investigation progresses, Kettering learns from details that Rocksavage possessed the best motive for the crime—financial gain. Moreover, he learned that Rocksavage was able to drag for dinner in four minutes, a feast conceivably enabling him to commit a murder and return to the ship's lounge without creating suspicion.

Confronted with this revelation, Rocksavage countered that Jockelyn, too, had a real motive—money. Furthermore, that Hayashi stood to lose a million dollars if Blane had lived long enough to conclude a merger with Rocksavage, thereby killing the soap monopoly deal Hayashi sought.

Later, Lady Welter, questioned again as to her whereabouts at the time of the crime, testified she was knitting a jumper in her maid's presence.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIX

DETECTIVE OFFICER NEAUME'S SHORTHAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S EXAMINATION OF LADY WELTER'S MAID, MILDRED SHORT.

K. Come in, Mildred. Just a few questions I want to ask you about what happened on the night Mr. Blane met his death.

M. Yes, sir.

K. What time did Lady Welter ring for you to come along and help her dress that night?

M. I think it was about ten past seven, sir, that is when I got to her ladyship's cabin.

K. How long were you with her?

M. Just under half an hour, sir. I was back in the service room down below by twenty-five to eight.

K. Lady Welter was busy knitting a jumper that day, wasn't she?

M. Yes, sir.

K. Do you remember how far she had got with it before she sent for you to help her to dress?

M. She only had one sleeve left to do, sir.

K. How long would that take her?

M. About half an hour, sir. It was only a short sleeve, you see.

K. When you came back to her cabin, after she had gone up, did you notice if the jumper was just the same, or had she done anything to it?

M. I didn't see it then, sir. In fact, I was wondering yesterday what had happened to it because I

I haven't seen it since.

K. Is that so? All right. You can go, Mildred.

DETECTIVE OFFICER NEAUME'S SHORTHAND NOTES OF DETECTIVE OFFICER KETTERING'S EXAMINATION OF MR. INOSUKE HAYASHI.

K. Good morning, Mr. Hayashi.

H. Good morning, Officer.

K. I don't think you were quite frank with me yesterday.

H. Oh, but I am always frank. I answer everything you ask—yes?

K. Maybe, but you didn't go out of your way to give me any extra information, did you? For instance, you didn't tell me that you had written a note to Blane asking him either to come to your cabin or give you a meeting in his before dinner.

H. I did not think that had any bearing on the case.

K. It has a bearing which may make things look very nasty for you, Mr. Hayashi. What time did Blane come to your cabin?

H. He did not come to my cabin.

K. Then what time did you go to his?

H. I did not go to his cabin. Poor man, he ignored my note, perhaps because he had no option.

K. What time did you send that postcard along to him?

H. About ten past seven, soon after Mr. Blane came on board. I wrote it in the small writing-room here and sent it down at once.

K. What were you so anxious to see him about?

H. It is quite simple. I have the disposal of the soap monopoly of my country in my hands. I must get the best price for my country that I can. I have been negotiating for its sale by correspondence with both Mr. Rocksavage and Mr. Blane, but neither would make me a definite offer.

I knew that if these two once got together the chances were that they would arrange an amalgamation. That would have put an end to their competition and my government would have had to accept a much lesser price in consequence. It was my business, therefore, to try and arrange a deal with one of these two gentlemen before they met.

Damage Suit Is Tried in Circuit Court ThursdayJury Deliberates Verdict In Case; Phillips Jury
Dismissed

The damage suit of Hubert and Donald Little against the Illinois Telephone company and Alfred Codwin was completed in circuit court late Thursday and was given to the jury. At a late hour last night the jurors had not returned a verdict.

The trial of the Little-Telephone company suit followed the completion of the criminal case of the People of Illinois against Clarence Phillips of Bluffs. After long deliberation the jury was discharged yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, unable to agree on a verdict. It was rumored that the jurors stood 7 to 5 for acquittal at the time it was decided there was a hopeless deadlock.

A jury to hear the common law case of Hubert Little and Donald Little against the Illinois Telephone company and Alfred Codwin was completed. The plaintiffs are seeking damages as a result of an automobile collision Dec. 6, 1935, at the corner of Superior and Clay avenues, and presentation of evidence in this case began shortly before noon.

Judge Walter Wright dismissed the jurors on the regular panel until March 11, at which time the only remaining jury case will be called for trial. The case was postponed until that time.

Jurors received the Phillips case at noon Wednesday, debated all afternoon and until midnight Wednesday night before retiring to a hotel for sleep. They returned to the jury room again Thursday morning, and after taking several ballots, none of which changed the totals, reported to the court that they were unable to reach a verdict. The first ballots taken were said to have been 6 to 6, with a slight change taking place during the afternoon and morning. Oscar C. Zachary, state's attorney, and Norbert Hutchins, of Scott county, represented the state, and Carl E. Robinson, the defense attorney, Sid Caldwell was foreman of the jury.

Immediately after the report that the jury was unable to reach a verdict in the Phillips case, Judge Wright called for the attorneys in the Little-Telephone company case to begin selecting a jury to hear the evidence in the automobile accident case.

Six extra jurors were selected to be added to the panel before the examination began. The jury was completed in half an hour, and attorneys made their opening statements before court adjourned for lunch.

Jurors who heard the case were Sam Miles, A. G. Leedy, Bert Floyd, Roy Schone, Edgar Mills, Otis Masun, Harry Salby, John Roach, Otto Beup, A. L. Bryant, Fred Kumble, and Charles Henry. The six extra jurors called to complete the panel were Walter Helms, Harry Salby, John Roach, A. L. Bryant, Fred Drake and Otto Beup.

Carl E. Robinson is representing the plaintiffs, and Attorneys Robert Harmon, Edward Flynn, and Leavitt Arnold are representing the defendants.

The motor vehicles driven by Donald Little and Codwin were badly damaged in the crash and Codwin was severely injured. The Little machine was proceeding on South Main street when the Codwin vehicle came out onto Main street and the collision occurred.

Orders docketed were as follows: Law. Mary S. Rawlins, et al. vs. Christina Launder. Ejectment. Motion by plaintiff to re-docket cause at cost of defendant presented and allowed. Cause re-docketed. Remanding order filed. Leave to defendant to file amended answer within five days.

Chancery. Ferdinand L. Strawn, et al. vs. Phoebe Strawn Tomlin. Bill. Entry of appearance and consent to approval of report filed by cestui que trust. Current report of trustee approved.

Ruth M. Lawrence vs. Leonard L. Lawrence. Complaint for divorce. Cause re-docketed on motion of plaintiff. Petition for order for support and maintenance of child filed. Place of service of notice of time and place of hearing, etc. Defendant appears. Cause heard. Petition allowed. Defendant ordered to pay $5.00 per week beginning 22nd inst. for support of child $35.00 for solicitors fees. (See written order).

7 Killed, 150 Hurt
On Morgan County
Roads During 1936Startling Figures Compiled
By Highway Department
On Traffic Casualties

Seven persons met death and 150 persons were injured in Morgan county as the result of automobile accidents during 1936, a summary compiled by the Illinois Division of Highways shows.

The accidents occurring in towns and rural districts are not segregated in the report, but only one death was in the city of Jacksonville.

The summary shows that there was a total of 98 accidents in which automobiles were involved, 91 of these being non-fatal. In some instances as many as four or five persons were injured in one accident.

During the past year Cass county had 4 deaths and 64 injuries in traffic accidents; Greene county 10 deaths and 99 injuries; Jersey 5 deaths and 55 injuries; Scott 3 deaths and 41 injuries.

With 2,461 killed and 23,389 injured, Illinois witnessed the greatest carnage on its highway system in history last year.

For the 31 consecutive days during December, 1936, an average of more than 10 persons were killed each day. This figure is nearly double the daily average for the year 1935. There were 314 fatalities during the month; this is 30% above December, 1935, and, with the exception of November, 1936, in which 284 persons were killed, is 23% above any previous month.

December deaths increased the total for the year to 2,461, which is 5.4% above 1935, and only 4.6% below the maximum of 2,575 which was established in 1934. January, 1936, started the year with a decrease of 16.8% under January, 1935, but month by month fatalities increased over the corresponding months until a maximum was reached in December.

There was an increase in most every type of accident for the year 1936. Pedestrian, other motor vehicle, and railroad train collisions claimed the most fatalities. The only decrease feature, an indication that the accident situation is not growing worse, is that the death rate on the basis of gas consumption decreased from 23.3 to 22.1 deaths per 10 million gallons of gas. In other words, the accident experience on the basis of the increased traffic volume, is growing better; but, nevertheless, there is no justification for the high traffic toll.

In addition to the deaths, 2,396 persons were injured in 1,736 December accidents, which involved 2,482 drivers. The totals for the year 1936 increased to 23,389 persons injured in 15,765 accidents involving 20,322 drivers.
